Welcome to Dom's Kitchen. This site features easy tasty recipes. I am a college student and learning how to cook is one of the many challenges you face when moving out. These recipes are fun and easy. They are affordable (since we are broke college kids). It is also important to eat a balanced diet so these meals are nutritious and will give a boost to you're day. Food is the fuel for your body so it is important to give you're body quality substance to keep it running like a well oiled machine.

Enjoy!
